Discusses the use of the Web and electronic commerce by nonprofit organizations to collect donations , find volunteers, and provide people with information about an organization and its goals. Points out the increased number of people the organizations can reach via the Web, providing them with information which they would not otherwise have access to. Mentions that these organizations need volunteers to maintain their Web sites, and spotlights the Toys for Tots site which was launched by Mantis Development Corp. of Boston, MA, as a test site for Java. Notes that donations tend to increase during the holiday season, and that some of the organizations' Web sites are enhanced for their holiday visitors. Includes one screen display. (kgh)

Abstract (Basic): US 20020072930 A1

NOVELTY - The real estate broker's license for a real estate referral management system, is obtained in a specific state. The real estate customer is referred to another licensed real estate broker. At least twenty percent of broker referral fee received by the referral management system, is paid to charity chosen by the customer.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION - INDEPENDENT CLAIMS are included for the following:

- (1) Real estate commission money diverting method; and
- (2) Real estate referral management system.

USE - For motivating submission of real estate referrals.

ADVANTAGE - Eliminates direct representation of buyer and sellers in the real estate transaction, as the real estate referral management system in a legal entity that has real estate brokers license. Enables efficient operation of referral management system, as the information such as sale of home or direct representation of a buyer are maintained confidentially. Enables easy transfer of broker referral fee to charity.

Abstract (Basic): KR 2001110610 A

NOVELTY - A system and a method for operating a charity community site on the Internet are provided to inform members of a customized shopping mall or electronic commerce site according to each member's tendency, gives marketing information to partners, evaluate the contribution of the partners and informs members of the result in real time.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION - A web server(11) provides registration information and customized channel information to a member. When the member selects one of the customized channel information, and participates in a predetermined donation activity, an application server calculates a contribution and transfers the same to a database. A member management database(24) receives the information of web activity generated according to the participation in donation activity from the application server(12), and gathers the same in a database. A transaction history evaluation server(23) collects a transaction history evaluation information or a transaction history of members from partners. A transaction history management database(25) receives the information provided from the transaction history evaluation server(23) and gathers the same in a database. An ASP center(26) generates marketing information relating to the donation activity of the members by using the data stored in the transaction history management database(25).

Abstract (Basic): WO 200180846 A2

NOVELTY - A user (160) uses a web browser to visit an Affiliate's main web page (120). A banner advertisement block (125) promotes products or services at an attractively discounted price and is linked to a Clearinghouse server (130) and to a merchant (140). The system includes a web access and scanning code for examining and vetting web page content. The user has an identifier to permit tracking and a commission vector enabling a donation to a user's chosen charity, school or account.

USE - The data processing system is used for supporting web-based commerce and commission tracking on a multi-node network.

ADVANTAGE - The system includes web page scanning to discern affiliate fraud or improper content to ensure proper promotion of selected products within the network environment.

DESCRIPTION OF DRAWING(S) - The figure shows a schematic block diagram of a data processing system.

Abstract (Basic): WO 200021009 A1

NOVELTY - A database electronically connected to donation collection server (106), stores data on several donation transactions. The internet web server having a website, is electronically connected to the database such that visitors of website can electronically access and entire data into the database.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION - Electronic cash registers (102a-102N) are electronically linked to the donation prompter located in commercial establishment. The donation collection server electronically communicating with the donation prompter, receives data on several donation transactions. An INDEPENDENT CLAIM is also included for method of collecting and processing donations from customers in commercial establishments.

USE - For electronic donation collection and processing in business establishments.

ADVANTAGE - Enables numeric customer identification entry using touch screen and numeric donee entry via a donee key reliably. Enables customer to identify and learn about non - profit organizations and charities by providing donee search engine. Since receivables from commercial establishment and billable for the donees are produced from the data stored in the database distribution of corresponding invoices and checks is enabled subsequently.

DESCRIPTION OF DRAWING(S) - The figure shows fun raising system of electronic donation collection and processing system.

Abstract (Basic): CA 2177448 A

The discount obtaining method involves purchasing a product from a supplier at a predetermined price and recording the transaction in a computer. A discount amount related to the purchased product is designated and the transaction is recorded on the computer. The attribution of the discount to the purchaser is authorised and the transaction is recorded.

A discount to pass at the point of sale is provided to the purchaser and the transaction is recorded. An agent between a funding entity for the purchaser and supplier is designated to receive a portion related to the discount. The purchaser of the product is provided with periodic summaries of the discount amounts.

ADVANTAGE - Provides instant discount/rebate at point of sale . Allows instant transfer of rebates to agent for later disbursement to charity designated by purchaser . Provides reports on amount of rebate earned and that passed on to charity . Provides reports to charity identifying donation as charitable contribution for tax purposes.

Abstract (Basic): AU 676819 B

The method of commerce involves causing the participating merchants to provide a rebate/discount to participating purchasers , and enabling the participating merchants to facilitate passage of the purchaser 's funds to a charity or similar organisation. Upon each or selected transactions between the participating merchants and participating purchasers , participating purchaser 's funds to the value of the provided rebate/discount are passed to the charity as a donation from the participating purchaser .

The transactions are conducted through an electronic funds transfer network which is able to operatively access the necessary account records of the participating merchants, the participating purchaser 's, a participating charity and determine the amount of rebate/discount provided by each participating merchant. The funds are donated to charity so that the donations constitute tax deductible donations for the purchasers .

ADVANTAGE - Effective in use.
